The screenshot shows the search interface for the Index to Foreign Legal Periodicals (IFLP). At the top, there are tabs for 'Full Text', 'Citation', 'Catalog', and 'Case Law'. Below these is a search bar with the text 'Search Index to Foreign Legal Periodicals (IFLP)...' and a search icon. A red box highlights the 'Search IFLP Metadata' link, with a red arrow pointing down to the main search area. The main search area is titled 'Index to Foreign Legal Periodicals (IFLP)' and includes a description: 'A subject index to selected international and comparative law periodicals and collections of essays. Produced at the Berkeley Law Library, University of California Berkeley for the American Association of Law Libraries (AALL)'. Below the description are five search filters: 'Search IFLP', 'Subjects', 'Country Subject', 'Region', 'Publication Title', and 'Print Edition (1960 -)'. Each filter is numbered 1 through 5. Below these filters is a 'Leave Feedback to help improve your experience' link. The search form includes three rows of input fields: 'Keywords (All fields)', 'Author', and 'Article Title'. Each row has a dropdown menu, a text input field, and a selection button ('AND' or 'Add field'). The 'Author' dropdown is numbered 6. Below the input fields is a 'Date' section with 'Date: (YYYY)' and 'To: (YYYY)' input fields, a 'Sort by: Relevance' dropdown, and a list of 'Section Types to Search' with checkboxes for 'Articles', 'Reviews', and 'Collection Articles'. The 'Collection Articles' checkbox is numbered 8. A 'Search' button is located at the bottom left of the form.

Choice of Law in the American Courts in 1994:
A View "From the Trenches"

I. INTRODUCTION

This is the eighth annual survey of American choice-of-law cases conducted at the request of the Conflicts Section of the Association of American Law Schools as a service to fellow Conflicts teachers.¹

This is also the fourth year in which the dubious honor of conducting this survey has fallen on this author. Because of this, it is not necessary to explain the purpose, method, or style of this survey, other than to say that this author sees his role as being no more than that of an advance reader of cases for the community of conflicts teachers. One apology, however, is due to the readers for the excessive length of this survey. This survey is longer than it has been in previous years because it discusses more cases. It does so for two reasons.

First, 1994 produced more interesting cases than did previous years.² Naturally, this assessment may be subjective. For example,
